JUDGE CAMPBELL HERE.

He Presides in the Circuit Court Again for the First Time

AFTER A SIX MOMTHS' SICK SPELL

Dr. Garrison's case taken up on the Motion for a new Trial, and the Hearing set for Friday Forenoon. The Defense has a Witness for the State on Hand.

As he indicated his intention to do in a letter written to Clerk Mitchell, of the circuit court, last week, Judgo John A. Campbell came down yesterday to open court again. It was just six months to the day yesterday since the judge went to his home in New Cumberland and went to bed with the fever. He looks well except that the absence of his curly locks gives him a somewhatodd appearance. He says he is as fat as when taken ill, and fells about as well every Yesterday afternoon the case of Dr. Yesterday afternoon the case of Dr. George I. Garrison, for the murder of Dr. George Baird, which has been waiting all this time for a hearing, was called up, Prosecuting Attorney Howard and Capt. Dovener both being present to represent the state, and Messrs. Sommerville and Arnett on behalf of the defense. Dr. Garrison was brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Zane, and was warmly greeted by the few of his friends who happened to be about the court room. He looks as if the steady life of the jail agreed with him, his appearance being the personification of health.

Messrs, Sommerville and Arnett

health.

Messrz. Sommerville and Arnett wanted to proceed there and then to cross examine Lester Bates, a witness for the state whose testimony was not obtained before for the reason that he was taken sick. The defendant's lawwas taken sick. The defendant's law-yers had taken the precaution to have him summoned for yesterday, and he was there. Messrs, Howard and Dove-ner urged that they were not ready to proceed with the examination, while the other side protested against further delay. After a good deal of discussion it was arranged that the taking of testi-mony should be begun on Friday at 9:30 a.m.;

The effort of the defense is to prove that two of the jurors were incompe-tent and that there was therefore not a fair trial. The evidence of the witness Bates is to be directed to establishing improper conduct on the part of one of the jurors. When the hearing was set for Friday Captain Dovener asked that the witness be recognized for his ap-pearance at that time, but no formal recognizance was taken, though the judge asked Bates if he would be pres-ent Friday forenoon, and he promised that he would.

Fire Alarm Last Night.

About 10 o'clock last night there was a noise somewhat like ten pandemomiums let loose at once. It was traced to the whistling of the locomotives in the the whistling of the locomotives in the B. & O. yard, and a steamboat besides, and as a bright blaze showed up in South Wheeling it was supposed there was a big fire in progress. An alarm was rung in from box 52, and the department were soon on the spot only to find that the Niagara engine, which had barely come out of the shop, already had a stream on, having received a still alarm. The fire was in an old dismantled freight car used as a baint shop the drieght car used as a paint shop by the B. & O. company. No other property was endangered. The car was pretty thoroughly gutted, and an adjoining one burned a little, but no special loss will result except the destruction of a little oil and paint in the shop.

The Arion Ball. The Arion young folks were not in it last night. Invitations had been issued last night. Invitations had been issued for a ball to be given at the hall of the society, and on them it was expressly stated, that the ball was chiefly for the entertainment of the married and older members of the organization. The older and married members enjoyed themselves as well as the younger ones could possibly have done, and danced all the evening with gusto, to the music of the Opera House orchestra. music of the Opera House orchestra. Mr. Kraus turnished an elegant supper, to which all did full justice, with appe-tites unimpaired by the fact of their be-ing married and no longer youthful.

"Lost in New York."

Manager Genther will put a force of men to work on his stage at the Grand Opera House to-night getting it in readiness for the great spectacle "Lost in New York," which will be presented New York," which will be presented here for the first time Friday evening, Saturday matinee and night, with the original New York company, two carloads of scenery and the following realistic effects: A real yaent, rowboats, prismatic fountain, real fire engine and a practical steamboat that runs at full speed. Among the company is Gusl'ixley, a brother of Annia Pixley of "M'liss" fame. Gus is said to be the only rival of Billy Hoey of the "Parlor Match" company and one of the funnicat comedians on the stage. Seats now on sale at Genther's book store.

"Joshua Simpkins,"

This new comedy which appears at the Grand for one performance only this evening, no doubt will be greeted by a large audience. The Hayseed Quartette, Joshua Simpkins farm house, at sunrise, City Hall Park, Pier 33 North river, and the street parade of the Farmers' band, will be worth seeing. J. W. Carner, a comedian of note, appears as Joshua Simpkins.

The correctness of the maxim "nothing succeeds like success" is well exemplified in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The most successful combination of alteratives and tonies, it always succeeds in caring diseases of the blood, and hence its wonderful popularity.
